

Meet the Young-At-Heart Club Unionville, VA

If you live in Orange County check out the Young-At-Heart Club. This lively group meets every Wednesday from 10:00-1:00 in the East Orange Ruritan building on the corner of RT 20 and 522 in Unionville. The club was first organized by Rev .James McEldowney in 1974 and has been going strong ever since. The group aims to have fun and provide a social outlet for rural senior adults. Each person brings a lunch and the club provides beverage and dessert. Every week there is some type of entertainment, game, guest speaker, and occasionally a covered dish luncheon or a trip. With a name like this how can it not be fun?

Edna Bratz (l), Activities Coordinator and Alice Lumsden, President look over next week's program.
